

Interações em Contexto Acadêmico - U3

Professores: Camille Gomes & Henrique Nunes

Instructions:

1. Read the sentences (1-8). Write the words or phrases in bold next to the correct definition (a-h).

- I. I do not like to wake up early. I get up around 10:00 am.
 - II. I like to cook my food at home, but many of my friends eat at restaurants.
 - III. Before I go to work, I have coffee and toast for breakfast every morning.
 - IV. I usually eat lunch at my desk at work. I usually have a salad or soup.
 - V. I eat dinner after work. Sometimes, I eat with friends at a restaurant.
 - VI. I often travel to China and Japan for my Work.
 - VII. I meet a lot of people at my job. I really enjoy talking with new people.
 - VIII. I swim every Saturday. I have lessons at a pool near my house.
- a. _____ (n) the food you eat at the end of the day.
 - b. _____ (phr v) to leave your bed after sleeping.
 - c. _____ (v) to see and speak to someone for the first time
 - d. _____ (n) the food you eat in the morning after you wake up.
 - e. _____ (v) to move through water by moving your body.
 - f. _____ (v) to prepare food by heating it
 - g. _____ (n) the food you eat in the middle of the day.
 - h. _____ (v) to go from one place to another, usually over a long distance.

Meet the Kombai

Can you imagine your life with no smartphones or TV? With no cars or supermarkets? Can you imagine life in a tree house?

1. In her book, A Life in the Trees, journalist Rebecca Moore travels 15,000 kilometres (km) from London to Papua New Guinea. In Papua New Guinea, Rebecca meets the Kombai people. She talks about their lives in the jungle.

2. Moore lived with the Kombai women and children for three months. Kombai life is very different. The Kombai people have no watches and no cars. There is no school for the children. Parents teach their children to cook, hunt and swim.

3. The Kombai get up every morning at sunrise. Kombai men hunt in the jungle. They can hunt for 12 hours. They also cut down sago palms. This tree is important. The women cook the inside of the tree. The Kombai people eat this food for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

4. The most important part of Kombai life is building their tree houses. The men, women and children all help build tree houses. Each house is 20 metres (m) high. The stories in this book show the Kombai people's lives in the trees.

2. Read the text on page 63. Then match the sentence halves to create complete sentences about the text.

- | | |
|---|------------------------|
| 1. In Papua New Guinea,
Rebecca meets | () the sago palm. |
| 2. The Kombai women cook | () The Kombai people. |
| 3. The Kombai people have | () build tree houses. |
| 4. The men, the women and children help to | () a different life. |

3. Scan the text for the information in the table. Tick (✓) the person or people that do each action. There may be more than one answer. The first one has been done as an example.

	Rebecca Moore	Kombai Men	Kombai Women	Kombai Children
hunt the jungle		✓
travel 15,000 km
cook sago palms
eat sago palms
have no cars teach children to hunt, cook and swim

build tree houses
tell the story of the Kombai way of life				